POSTMASTER FIXA SAYS BUILDING WORK TO BEGIN BY END OF MONTH

New Edifice To Cost $27,000; Double Size Of Present Post Office

Postmaster John F. Fixa announced today that Daly City's new post office will be under construction by the end of the month, and completed within the next 60 to 90 days.

The $27,000 one story frame stucco building will go up at the corner of Mission Circle and Bepler, only two blocks from the present post office on Mission street. It will cover approximately 3,500 square feet, double the size of the Mission Street building.

A. R. Haskins, 6995 Mission St., who will lease the building to the post office department, said the job contract has been let to Robert P. Kelly of San Francisco.

The building has been planned to meet the needs of Daly City for the next 10 years, Fixa said. It is hoped that by then the federal government will put up a permanent federal building here.

Announcement of plans for a new post office was made last November and the building was to have been occupied by March 1. However, due to the Korean war, contractors hesitated to take the job, Haskins declared.

Cancer Fund

Here's How To Save A Life

At a recent board meeting of the American Cancer Society, Dr. Robert O. Holmes, Education Chairman of the San Mateo County Branch, addressed the group, choosing as his topic "How To Save A Life."

The address was given in connection with the American Cancer Society's 1951 Crusade.

Dr. Holmes stated: "A sensible step in Cancer Control is to see to it that the people who are fighting cancer have the funds they need. In addition to wide spread public and professional education, the American Cancer Society performs many services to cancer patients and supports a multi-million dollar research program."

"In requesting contributions," said Dr. Holmes, it is well to remember that a $1 gift to the 1951 Cancer Crusade will buy ten test tubes for a scientist seeking new means of cure—that dollar will speed the day when cancer no longer will be a major health menace.

Recreation Board Created By City

Five Man Commission To Advise City Council

(Editor's Note: Number of residents present at the regular city council meeting: 10...six of whom were from Westlake.)

Creation of a five-man recreation commission to advise the city on recreation needs was the principal business enacted by the city council at Monday night's meeting.

The commission will replace the informal recreation committee that has been functioning here for the past several years. As outlined in the ordinance setting up the commission the board will:

1. Consist of five members to be appointed by the mayor, subject to approval by the city council. Members will receive no pay. They will serve three years on the commission, except for the first group, two mmebers of which will serve but two years.

Duties

2. Duties of this commission will consist of settng up the recreation department budget and advising the council on needs for recreation both present and future.

Members of the new board will be announced at the next council meeting, April 23.

Three hearings were held, two of which were put over until the next meeting. The petition of the Stonecrest Corporation to rezone for business usage the block bounded by Junipero Serra Blvd., Sullivan Ave., 87th and 88th Sts. was postponed.

Objections

Also postponed was a petition from the Henry Doelger Company requesting a block on Crestwood Drive be rezoned from R-1 to R-3 for apartments. Four residents objected to this zone change, asserting it would mean: 1. Blocking their view; 2. Lowering the value of their property.

B. Poncetta, vice-president of the Henry Doelger Company, replied that the apartments would not block the view of the residents.

In other action, the council ordered the city attorney to proceed with the forceful abatement of a building at 6951 Mission Street. The council had warned Haskins that unless improvements were in by last Monday's meeting that the city would take action to tear down the building.

Will Fight

Haskins today said he would not comply with the council's order, and furthermore will fight the action in court. There appears to be some question as to whether or not the city can force the abatement when the building is almost completed, as Haskins asserts.

Other business before the council consisted of:

1. Ordering eminent domain proceedings instituted to secure a half-acre of property adjoining the Jefferson Elementary School. Mrs. Giovanna Tosi, owner of the property is asking $6,500 for the half-acre. With the new land, the school will enlarge the play. ground.

2. Granted the request of Dr. Ivan Budaeff for rezoning his home at No. 2 Mission Circle to allow its use as a medical center.

New Officer

3. Instructed Police Chief W. W. Sunderland to find a man willing to take part time work as a policeman while other officers are on vacation. Chief Sunderland,

Board Election

Mrs. Fisher Asks For Parents Vote

Calling for support of her candidacy as trustee of the Jefferson Elementary School Board, Mrs. Ruth Macdonald Fisher issued the fololwing statement today:

No matter what you think, education is here to stay. For that matter it has always been vital in our lives, but it is only in the past few decades that education has been everybody's job. Just as the saying goes, " Education is everybody's job," which parallels "Freedom is everybody's job." They are synonymous, freedom and education.

And since these facts face us all our lives we need to be ever on the watch to insure ourselves with the betterment and security of good education. In our community in the past four years we have been seeing great changes in the physical structure of our schools, and in them we are greatly increased in number and need. Therefore, we must keep abreast of improvement in all things educational.

We need to know our school, our teachers, our educators. So many of us are on the sidelines that we do not realize we are needed to spur the educational set-up. That is why, after studying our school district, and studying our needs and becoming well acquainted with it, I have considered taking an active part by filing my name with the nominees for School Trustee for the Jefferson Elementary School District.

Interest Needed

I appeal to everyone to become thusly interested! And Iil guaran-

Error Delays Rent Decontrol

The lifting of rent controls here will be delayed approximately six weeks because the Daly City officials erred in passing the bill.

As a result the council will go through the proceedings again on April 23.

National Housing Expediter Tighe Woods notified the council Monday that it took action seven days after giving first notice of its intentions, instead of waiting at least 10 days as prescribed by federal law. It also failed to publish notice of intention in legal form.

Despite the slight error, not a single tenant had protested at the time the action was taken, according to Mayor Paul Green.

Colma To Vote On "Divorce"

Where or not the voters of Colma wish to lose approximately one-quarter of the city's land area will be decided at a special election to be held April 24.

The city council has already approved the friendly "divorce" of some 400 acres by the Crocker Estates Land Company. Crocker asked the separation on the grounds that Colma's new building restrictions would not allow development of the land.

If the divorce is granted the Crocker land will revert to county jurisdiction and the company may go ahead with plans for development.

There are 150 registered voters in Colma who are expected to turn out for the election.

OLPH Holy Names Group Will Meet This Sunday

All members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Holy Names Society are invited to attend Communion and a breakfast at the church this Sunday, April 15.

Breakfast will follow the 8 o'clock Mass.

Voters Asked To Pass $1,500,000 Bond Issue At May 18th Election

SCHOOL BOARD CONTEST DEVELOPS

Four In Elementary Race Three For High Race

Two new candidates, both from Broadmoor, this week filed as candidates for trustee on the Jefferson Elementary School Board.

They are: Thomas S. Jenkins, 30, 1148 Nimitz Drive; and Mrs. Ruth Macdonald Fisher, 40, 727 Washington Street.

This brings to four the number of candidates seeking the one school board seat at the May 18 election. The two others are incumbent Andrew Van Der Werff, 80 Miriam Drive; and Claude Hanrahan, 932 Bradley Drive, Broadmoor.

Meanwhile, today a third candidate filed for one of the two positions open on the Jefferson High School board. He is Guy G. Kitson,40, 662 Beaumont Boulevard, Edgemar. Employed by the San Francisco Water Company, Kitson is experienced in school board activities. He is presently a member of the Laguna-Salanda elementary school board.

Also in the Jeffesron High School contest is incumbent Thomas Gallen of Colma and Lyan Ingersoll, of Daly City.

A former school teacher, Mrs. Fisher has been a resident of Broadmoor for the past 4½ years. Previous to moving to Broadmoor Mrs. Fisher taught at Monterey. She also served several years as a relief teacher in the Jefferson Elementary School District.

Jenkins is a practicing attorney and now president of the Broadmoor Property Owners Association. He has resided in Broadmoor for the past three years, and is the father of two children.

Candidates have until 30 days before the election to file for positions. Both elections will be held here May 18.

Meanwhile, there is no opposition to incumbent Thomas Gallen and Lyal Ingersoll who are seeking the two positions on the Jefferson High School Board.

Thugs Slug Local Woman

Police today are on the lookout for two youths after a Daly City woman was slugged and robbed here Monday night.

The victim, Mrs. Carolyn Hechim of 93 San Diego avenue, reported to police that while she was crossing Hillcrest Drive at San Diego avenue at 11:15 o'clock she was slugged by a young man wearing blue jeans and a maroon colored shirt.

While she lay prostrate on the street the youth removed her shoulder strap purse containing $33.

Her assailant's companion then drove up in a faded blue car and the two fled at high speed.

Mrs. Hechim said the youth was about 19, but she could not describe his companion or the getaway car.

Program Calls For New School And Site For Third Building

Voters will be asked to approve a $1,500,000 bond issue May 18 for the construction of a new high school, purchase of a site for a third, and enlargement of present facilities at Jefferson High.

The announcement of the pending election was made today by Stanford Hannah, school superintendent, and the members of the Jefferson High School board of trustees.

As outlined in a preliminary plan, the money from the bond issue will be employed over the next year for:

1. Erection of a second high school near Skyline Boulevard, either north or south of Pedro Road, to be completed by the fall of 1953. The new school will serve Westlake, Broadmoor, Garden Village and future growth in that general area.

Preliminary Plan

No definite plans yet have been drawn by Architect Mario Ciampi, although the new school probably will be a one story stucco frame building with 20 to 25 rooms. The facilities will handle from 500 to 600 students.

2. Purchase of a second site just north of Sharp Park on the coast highway. This site will be held until needed for a third high school to meet the expected increase in population along the coast.

School board trustees assert that the chosen site is one of the few remaining pieces of ground large enough for a high school, and properly located, to be found on the coast.

3. The erection of a "multiple purpose" building on the present site of Jefferson High School. This building will be used primarily for a cafeteria. The present cafeteria, in the basement of Jefferson, will be employed as storage space.

Need Great

4. Equipment for the new school will be purchased with the money raised in the election.

The need for increasing the facilities in the district is based on the growing population of the district which includes not only Daly City but Brisbane, Bayshore, Colma, Broadmoor, Westlake, Sharp Park, Rockaway Beach and Pedro Valley.

Capacity

Enrollment at Jefferson for the current year is 950. This is capacity enrollment for present facilities.

There will be some 1,100 students by the fall of 1951, Hannah said, and the number of students in the district will increase in proportion thereafter.

Even when the bond issue is passed, the new school can not be completed before the fall of 1953; and by then the student population will be approximately 1,400.

Until the new school is ready, various "temporary means" will have to be used, Hannah said. These "temporary means" are expected to mean that the high school, as the elementary schools, may soon enter the "swing shift" program of education.

Long Study

The board of trustees, and the administration, have spent a long time studying the future needs of the district.

"We don't wish to be caught napping," Hannah said. "We know how many students are in each grade of the elementary schools. We must be ready for them when they reach high school."

And what will be the cost of

THIEF PUTS SKIDS UNDER $20 ON RACK

A lubrication rack is no place to hide $20.

Too late the management of the Shell Station, 2001 Junipero Serra Boulevard learned that lesson.

Early last Sunday morning a thief smashed a pane of glass in the station, opened a window, and climbed in. Without wasting time he went directly to the lube rack, lifted the $20 and went his way.

tee that when you do you will find that there could be nothing more important to the welfare of the future family and community than the drive for the best kind of education for the children. Knowledge is very important. It is vital that we have a good knowledge of what is happening to one of our most expensive commodities, schools. When we know what to expect of schools, we can demand what we know is ours. And it is with this intent that I expect to proceed.

It is the desire of everyone to obtain satisfaction from efforts. It is my desire to see that our community obtains satisfaction for its youngsters when they go to school. Isn't that what you, as parents, wish? I'm sure that it is. You look forward to your children going to school because you feel that there is where their life in the world begins. You entrust a precious part of your children's welfare to a group of people. Naturally you feel that the schools are a safe place for you to deposit your children's education. Just make sure that is so.

Please keep tuned in to your educational system, please keep informed; and remember to assert your prerogative, when you are aware that is needed . . . your vote, that is!

Like Parents

I always enjoy talking to parents of school children. For they are open-minded and know what they want for their children. They are good judges. However, they do not always find what they would like to find. I know that parents are interested in the functions of the school board for it is that body which represents the parents and the people on Education. The voice of the parents is their vote. Let us keep our voices true and clear and active.

Sincerely yours,
Ruth Macdonald Fisher

Stieve Closes Case With Law

Wednesday morning.

Stepping into a shower in the second floor cell block of the Redwood City jail, Stieve took a piece of broken glass from his pocket. (It is believed he obtained the glass by breaking one of the beverage bottles that prisoners are allowed.) He first tried to cut his wrist, and when this failed he slashed at the jugular vein in his neck.

A few seconds later he was found bleeding to death by his cellmate Frank Smyser of Daly City. Smyser attempted to stop the bleeding, but Stieve was dead before Smyser's wild cries for help brought the guards.

Enough Evidence

The suicide came the same day that the district attorney's office was cleaning up evidence to present to the county grand jury Monday evening. Corner block of this evidence was the discovery by the district attorney's office that the knife used to kill Miss Gowland had been made for Stieve at Hunter's Point where he had been working as a carpenter. Stieve had denied knowing anything about the knife.

Louis B. Dematteis, San Mateo County district attorney said that the suicide closed the books on the slaying. Officials are certain Stieve was the murderer, although Stieve asserted his innocence.

First Try

The close mouthed carpenter indicated earlier in the week he was planning a second suicide attempt when he told another prisoner: "I'm not going to trial." Before the murder charge was filed, the suspect had attempted to kill himself by ramming his head against a concrete pillar in the jail.

This ended one of the shortest murder cases in the history of Daly City. Miss Gowland was killed in her home March 28; her body was found by Daly City police four days later, and that same evening Chief of Police W. W. Sunderland and San Francisco officers picked up Stieve. Enough evidence was gained in the following three days to convince officers that Stieve, in a jealous rage, had killed the woman he had once intended to marry.

DEAR PARENTS

By Jane Keith

Hopalong Cassidy came to live with us last Christmas and hasn't missed a meal nor an opportunity to instruct the family in "range life" since he arrived! He is a hard and meticulous taskmaster.

Take, for instance, the matter of names. . . . If you think my name is Mrs. Keith—you're dead wrong "podner." I am Chuck Wagon Nellie, the best "peanut butter" bean and Kilpatrick "sourdough" cook in the county. That name goes double if I bake chocolate cake, too!

Tom is no longer Tom, but "Robert"—a mysteriously dangerous bandit who dishes out what I can discipline but is labelled "dry gulching" by Hoppy and his Bar 20 rider as they ride the backyard—I mean corral!

ather is still "Daddy," but even he must knuckle down when he pours a drink of root beer over the Bar 20 bar. Root beer and such like is "red eye" and "We don't like mistakes around here, SEE!"

Betty Ann Brunette came into this Western Cowboy paradise like the snake came into Eden — a three foot brunette with an unstacked chassis, a top-knot on her head and freckle dust across the bridge of her nose. Even without her six guns and cowgirl hat, Betty Ann was a girl to reckon with—and every man on the Bar 20 knew it from past experience.

Hoppy and his riders stirred uneasily and went into a huddle. She was the right size, the right age and she seemed to have the right idea, but "gol durn it" she was STILL a girl!

Betty Ann solved the problem with one sentence—"Shall I be Dale Evans "Queen of the Cowgirls"—or do you want to be the Daddy?" she asked firmly, pulling out her baby doll from under a fringed, denim clad arm and looking Hoppy straight in the eye. That did it!

Dale Evans now rides the Bar 20 range even at round-up time with Hoppy by her side. And if, as the shadows start to gather round the old corral, they play house or "baby" with each other —no one dares "rib" them about it.

OLPH Mothers Club

KPs Lauded For Bringing Sunshine To April In Paris Luncheon Event

by Mrs. Isabelle Liberti

In recent months there has been quite a number of delightful club affairs reported in THE RECORD —fashion shows, teas, luncheons, installations, and initiations.

Chairmen have been lauded for their successes, committees have posed happily for pictures, but at each affair there is behind the scenes a group of unsung heroines without whom these gay doings would be dismal flops. There are the table setters, dishwashers, cooks, coffee makers, sweeper-ups and all the willing workers to whose lot fall the less glamorous jobs.

The Mothers' Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help School has always been complimented for its efficient service at any affair, and the secret is simple. Everyone takes a turn at these tasks and even though there may be a slacker here or there, sooner or later the system catches up. Very few escape a turn at K.P. duty and no one's manicure is sacred.

April in Paris

All of this is preliminary toward discussing the service crews for the "April in Paris" luncheon which the Mothers' Club of O.L.P.H. is holding Saturday afternoon, April 28, in the school auditorium.

Among the more glamorous jobs are that of the chairmen, Mrs. Mary Calegari and Mrs. Valetta Ennis; investments, Mrs. Ruth Cresta; tickets, Mrs. Catherine Ricci; door prizes, Mrs. Susan Schroeder.

There is plenty of hard work connected with these jobs and all must be done properly if the affair is to be a success, but on the day of the luncheon the ladies can float around in their best bid and tuckers, complete with corsage and be "Clubwomen." Behind the scenes, how different! Mrs. Janet Fellman and Mrs. Hazel Sullivan, chairmen, will be given a thousand directions as they perform dozens of tasks with deceptive ease. Mrs. Ann Drury and Mrs. Kay Balesteri will be too busy to grab even a bite on the fly, let alone peek at the entertainment. Knowing Mrs. Fellman's reputation as a cook without peer, the guests that day will be served an unforgettable luncheon, food that will be an epicurean's dream.

Hot Is Cold

The best of food loses its flavor if the hot foods are not served hot and cold foods cold. Who has not at some time or another been annoyed at luke warm coffee and melted ice cream? Such will not be the case at this luncheon, as Mrs. Elinor McDougal has assembled a large group of members to act as waitresses and everyone will be served promptly and smoothly.

Perhaps less essential, but a job to be done however, are the decorations. Decorations are seldom good to eat, they do not entertain, but they definitely add to the atmosphere. In this affair, Mrs. Marion Balesteri, chairman, has been instructed to bear in mind the "April in Paris" theme so for the past month Mrs. Balesteri, Mrs. Josephine Lamendola, Mrs. Virginia Stanley, Mrs. Mildred Barone and Mrs. Isabelle Liberti have been working on decorations and all hope they will add to the illusion of April in Paris.

A few more glances "behind the scene" will be given next week.

Reservations for the luncheon and entertainment may be made at the Mothers' Club regular meeting, which will be held Friday, April 13 at 8:15 in the school auditorium. Reservations can also be made by telephone after the meeting by calling Mrs. Catherine Ricci at JUniper 7-5735. Reservations will be limited so it is hoped that calls will be made early to avoid disappointment.

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOLS

COLMA SCHOOL

Jefferson School District is again the proud parents of another school — the first intermediate grade school—"Colma."

Following the impressive dedicatory ceremonies on Sunday, April 1, 1951, the school was opened for regular session on Monday, April 2, 1951. Seventh and eighth grade students — 240 in number, from Crocker School — were effeciently transported to the new building; while 65—7th grade students from Jefferson received the same transportation.

Although the thrill of being pioneers in a new building was in the heart of teachers and pupils, the quiet, orderly and well-planned manner in which students and teachers engaged in the transitional change was remarkable. By 10:40 all classes had arrived, and academic programs were being presented to classes. Stationery supplies, teacher schedules, routine procedures, student body officers had all been previously attended to so that no time was lost in the shift.

The building itself is an edifice of ultra-modern construction and color, which was high-lighted by effective preparation on the part of teachers and administrators in the use of various color schemes in every section of the new modern structure. Visitors to the building are welcome at any time.

Second Version

The "big" day arrived when on April 2, the pupils from the Crocker and Jefferson Elementary Schools were transported to the new building to become the pioneer classes of the Colma School at Hillside Drive and Market Streets.

The transfer was made with hardly a hitch and within an hour, classes were started on a regular program. In Room 6, the pupils have learned how to read angles, to draw different kinds of of angles and how to bisect them. In other classes, various subjects were being taught according to schedule.

It was a thrill to have big, roomy classrooms, still beautifully decorated as they were the day before when the new building was dedicated with colorful ceremonies. The new desks enthralled the youngsters, especially those who had been using cartons for a term or more. All were happy that the desks were to be their own until the end of the term and no one had to get out in a hurry to let the next group come in and occupy the room.

The quiet was not disturbed by relays of youngsters taking their physical training or their recesses, while others in nearby classrooms were trying to study.

All classes are now running smoothly—as if no radical change had ever taken place, all because of the fine planning done beforehand by an able executive.

CROCKER SCHOOL

Move

Crocker held its final combined Student Body Assembly on April 2, 1951. Prior to the mass transportation of 7th and 8th grade students to the "Colma School," an outdoor pledge led by Superintendent Snell, the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," and the American creed summarized and closed the term of office of the present student body officers. President Lenita Johnson conducted the final assembly. Crocker now has its own student body government with officer elected from the sixth grade. Watch this column for the present officers of the Crocker Student Body.

New Officers

With the district transfer contingent with the opening of the first intermediate school in the district—Colma—Crocker still is proud to report that it has not lost its individuality, but maintains its Student Body Government.

A new staff of officers, candidates from th three six grades have been duly nominated and elected. The Crocker Constitution has been revised and accepted by the following student body officers:

President: Ronald Davis
Vice-President: Irene Schiaffino
Secretary: Barbara Evans
Treasurer: Patricia Hickey
School Representatives: Robert Low, Wendy Lee Wilson
Sergeant-At-Arms: John Smith, Gail O'Brien
School Pianists: Phyllis Thur, Ann Cheatham.
Safety Chairman: Gordon Tydingca.

The student body council from each room in the school, which even boasts a 4th grade now include:

Room 1—Edyth Guidry, George Fresenborg
Room 2 — Cecile Champagne, Jack Klassen
Room 3 — Vicki Tomasi, Phillip Fortier
Room 4 — Loretta Berg, Carl Mecchi
Room 5 — Barbara Wester, Charles C. Carter
Room 6—Dawn O'Brien, Ronald Monteleone

Very shortly this student body will hold its first assembly for presentation of the officers to the rest of the Student Body and introduction of the Student Council.

Room 4

This class enjoyed a special art lesson with the Art Supervisor. Mrs. Pauline Kagen. They spent the period learning to sketch with pencil. They learned to hold the pencil in a special way, to draw lightly at first, and then to shade the color darker as needed. They also learned to look carefully at anything planned to draw and thus to note that closer objects seem larger while those at a distance appear smaller. It was an interesting and fruitful lesson and produced some interesting results.

Room 1

The children in this room are completing their unit on Canada and will begin their unit on Alaska next. They have begun their next unit in arithmetic, the division of fractions.

Room 6

This room is happy to at last have a room of their own. They are planning to start a science collection, including lizzards, gartersnakes, frogs, polywogs and insects.

This room has completed its review of fractions and will begin a review of decimals.

With the return to regular session this class looks forward to a longer social studies period and expects to do some nice work when they study Alaska.

Fifth Grade
Room 2

Last Thursday this class welcomed Charlotte Dules to their class. They were also sorry to say good-by to Janet Brown who transferred to Oakley.

Room 3

This class has learned to do fraction problems which involve subtraction and borrowing. Most of the children have done very well at this new work.

In social studies they are working on a map of California and have begun a brief study of the lunmbering industry of California.

Room 5

Monday was Moving Day for this class. Riding a school bus was a new experience for these students. They all rode together when the class was moved from Woodrow Wilson to Crocker.

In scial studies the unit is on Mexico. Mrs. Morgan showed the class her collection of colored slides on Mexico on Friday morning. The class is now making its own slides on the people of Mexico.

Safety Committee Thanked For Signs

Dear Sir:

I am writing this letter in regards to the good work of the Daly City Traffic Safety committee.

Recently, at the request of this committee to the city council, arterial stop signs were placed at the intersection of Bellevue & Evergreen Avenue and Roosevelt and Bellevue Avenue. This will put a stop to speeding which endangers the lives of the children, especially students at Crocker Elementary School.

At this time I would like to show my appreciation, via this letter, to the city council and the Traffic Safety committee of which Edward J. Dennis is chairman.

Sincerely,
Clifford E. Britton
598 Evergreen Avenue

Six winners are to be selected. Preliminary screening for central California is now being done in San Francisco.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION COMING

What may be one of the hottest school board elections in many a year took shape this week.

Three men and a woman will be in the race for the one vacancy on the Jefferson Elementary School board. Three men are in the running for the two seats on the Jefferson High School board.

In days when educational facilities are the real concern of any thinking man and woman, the function of the school board is more important than ever before. The decisions the board makes will effect not only the children of today, but the men and women of tomorrow.

During the next six weeks, before the May 18 election, THE RECORD will give candidates, regardless of their platforms, a fair opportunity to make their qualifications known to the public. It is the policy of this paper to allow every candidate to speak loud and clear (within the laws of libel) in THE RECORD.

We sincerely hope these candidates, their friends and foes included, will take the opportunity to "sound off" in THE RECORD.

But more, we hope the readers, the voters, will pay careful attention to the coming election. Regardless of how you vote, know your candidate and vote wisely.

CANCER FUND CAMPAIGN OPENS

Residents of Daly City this week were called on to contribute $300 to the fight against cancer.

This is a small quota. So small, in fact, that it should be reached without any great difficulty. However reluctant we may be to give money, regardless of the cause, this is one case where a donation is the best insurance policy in the world.

Your donation, any amount, may well be the last dime or dollar needed to carry on research which some day will find the cure to rthe dread disease. Your dime or dollar is insurance so that should you, or a member of your family be struck down by cancer, medical aid is available.

Give generously to the cancer drive this year. Your dime or dollar may save your life.

WHAT MEANS FRIDAY THE 13th?

Friday the 13th is traditionally an unlucky day. No one appears quite certain why this mysterious combination turns up as poison, but a look at a calendar will convince most to be on the outlook for black cats tomorrow.

These days most look on superstition as an interesting hangover from the pre-scientific era. Ask the average man if he is superstitious and he will answer with an emphatic "No." Yet, watch him come to a ladder . . . he will go around it. Watch him spill salt . . . unless he is at Mrs. Astor's home he will toss some salt over his shoulder. And so it goes, a man's reason tells him one thing; but his emotions make him act quite differently.

Possibly that is the chief fault with the world in general, and Daly City in particular. Were we half so reasonable as we would believe, this city would be an idea place in which to live. Divorced of superstition, and the more serious hokum that if we and our neighbors believe 2 and 2 is five it must be true, we would function as ideal beings.

Colma PTA Awards Two Honorary Life Memberships

by Mrs. Marjorie Hopper

Two Honorary Life memberships were awarded at the Fifth Annual Installation Dinner held in the Colonial Inn on April 3 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. William Chessman was the recipient of the first one, and Mrs. Marjorie Hopper, recipient of the second one.

Mrs. Chessman has been the secretary, treasurer, publicity chairman, and whenever we needed her she has been very willing to give us aid and has. Mrs. Hopper is the past president.

The Dinner was served amid conversation and beautiful spring flowers, blue and yellow iris, stock, corsages of every description. The dessert and coffee was served; then we enjoyed piano selections by Ronald Stanghellini and tap dancing by Wayne Flansburg, and accordian selections by Robert Gaggero.

History Told

Mrs. M. Pauline Brown gave a delightful account of what the unit had done the past year, salted with the many dignified things and peppered with wit. We seemed to have had a very busy year.

A short busines meeting was held. The next meeting will be held on May 8 at 1:30 p.m. as the state convention dates fall on the first Tuesday in May. Mrs. J. C. Wiesner is attending the convention.

The Membership enrollment prize was given to the first grade at Thornton, Mrs. Hazel Colwell, teacher; fifth grade at Jefferson, Miss G. Campana, teacher; third grade at Jefferson, Mrs. A. Gray, teacher, and first grade at Jefferson, Mrs. E. Hosmer, teacher.

Installation

The Installation of the officers was performed by Mrs. M. G. Stronhmeier, Seventeenth District Counselor at Large. She installed the following officers by giving them a diploma, and, following our theme, they were in gold tied with blue ribbon! President, Mrs. John C. Wiesner; Vice-President, Mrs. Eldo Lanza; Recording Secretary, Mrs. George Bertucci; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Alan F. Mori; Treasurer, Mrs. William Chessman; Auditor, Mrs. Stella Jensen; Historian, Miss Hester Blaylock, Parliamentarian, Mrs. Marjorie Hopper.

CALIFORNIA STATE INCOME TAX

by Thomas H. Kuchel

(This is the second of a series of articles prepared under the direction of Thomas H. Kuchel, Chairman of the Franchise Tax Board, relative to the liability of taxpayers under the California Personal Income Tax Law.)

Tax liability under the California law is determined by reference to the taxpayer's gross income less allowable deductions, personal exemptions, and credit for dependents. This article is concerned with "gross income" and "adjusted gross income" as defined in the law.

Gross income includes, in general, compensation for personal and professional services, business income, profits from sales of and dealings in property, including gain from sale of taxpayer's own personal residence (loss from sale of taxpayer's residence is not deductible), interest, rent, dividends and gains, profits, and income derived from any source whatever, unless exempted from tax by law. Income when received is taxable whether paid in cash or property. Income in the form of property is taxable to the extent of the fair market value of the assets received.

Tuition

Tuition and subsistence allowances received by veterans from the Federal Government under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 are not includible in gross income.

The following particular payments received for personal and professional services are subject to tax:

All salaries received including directors' fees, executors' and trustees' fees, commissions, bonuses, tips, and profit-sharing distributions by an employer to employee;

All salaries received by Federal, State, county and city employees, including compensation received as a member (active or retired) of the armed forces or of the state guard, are taxable; likewise, notary public fees and jury fees, both Federal and State;

Marriage fees, baptismal offerings and other contributions received by clergymen and other religious workers;

Living Expense

Payment for services received in whole or part in the form of living quarters or board and room to the extent of the value of the accomodations furnished;

Pensions paid to retired employees of a state or political subdivision thereof, and similarly, pensions or retirement payments made to a former employee by a private employer, to the extent the pensions so paid are taxable under the law.

Inreporting wages, salaries, or other compensation employees must include the entire amount thereof even though some portion of such compensation is deducted by the employer (1) for the purpose of creating a fund for payment of retirement pensions or (2) as a prepayment of Federal income taxes.

GROSS INCOME FROM BUSINESS—In the case of a manufacturing, merchandising, or mining business "gross income" means the total sales, less the cost of goods sold, plus any income from investments and from incidental or outside operations or sources. In determining the gross income, subtractions should not be made for depreciation, depletion, selling expenses, or losses, or for items not ordinarily used in computing the cost of goods sold.

Definition

"Adjusted gross income" means gross income less the following allowable deductions:

Expenses attributable to a trade or business; expense of travel and lodging while away from home in connection with employment; actual expense in conection with employment for which a taxpayer is reimbursed by his employer (amount so reimbursed must be included in gross income); expense attributable to property held for the production of rents or royalties; certain deductions of life tenants and income beneficiaries of property held in trust; and losses from the sale or exchange of property.

Adjusted gross income is used as a basis for the determination of the amount of (1) the standard deduction, (2) the deduction for charitable contributions, and (3) the deduction for medical and dental expenses.

The tax under the law is based upon "net income" which is computed by first allowing taxpayers the deductions from "gross income" that are allowable in computing adjusted gross income;

Salary Income — In the event employment requires that an individual travel, expenses so incurred including board and lodging while away from home are deductible provided the taxpayer is not reimbursed. If reimbursement or allowance for such expenses is made, such amounts must be included in gross income and the actual expenses may be claimed as deductions therefrom. No deduction may be claimed from salary income for: Cost of education or training to fulfill or qualify for a position; expenses of trips in search of work; car fare or other transportation costs in going to and from work; expenses of moving to another locality upon change of employment.

Professional Fees

Professional Income — professional fees must be reported as income, and deductions therefrom are allowable for expenses incurred in practice of the profession, which include rent, automobile upkeep, light, water, fuel, supplies, telephone, and salary paid assistants. Any expense incurred in part as personal and part as professional expense must be allocated and is deductible only to the extent attributable to practice of the profession. The cost of furniture, fixtures, equipment and technical books is not allowed as an expense but the cost thereof may be recovered through depreciation deductions.

Business Income—Profit from business operations must be included as gross income. From gross sales less cost of goods sold deductions may be claimed for all the ordinary and necessary expenses of doing business such as salaries and wages, rent, light, heat, power, water, advertising, stationery, postage insurance delivery and trucking expense.

After computing adjusted gross income the taxpayer may elect to compute net income by taking certain specific deductions which are allowable even though not directly connected with the production of gros income, or he may elect to compute net income by claiming the standard deduction, which is in lieu of all deductions other than those that are subtracted from gross income in computing adjusted gross income.

Option Tax

Standard Deduction -- The Personal Income Tax Law gives individual taxpayers the option of taking a standard deduction in lieu of all deductions other than those that are subtracted from gross income in computing adjusted gross income.

The amount of the standard deduction depends upon the amount of the adjusted gross income. If the adjusted gross income is $5,000 or more, the standard deduction is $300. If husband and wife file a joint return and their aggregate adjusted gross income is $5,000 or more, the standard deduction allowable is only $300. If the adjusted gross income is less than $5,000, the standard deduction is allowed only if the taxpayer elects to use the Optional Tax Table which automatically allows a standard deduction of approxiately 6% of the adjusted gross income.

When husband and wife file separate returns, one spouse may take the standard deduction of $300 only if the other spouse also takes the standard deduction of $300 or uses the Optional Tax Table. If the tax of one spouse is determined from the Optional Tax Table, the other spouse, if not using this table, may claim only $1,750 personal exemption.

Deductions

Itimized Deductions — If the taxpayer does not elect to claim a standard deduction either by taking a deduction of $300 or computing his tax by use of the Optional Tax Table, he is allowed, in addition to those deductions allowed in computing adjusted gross income, certain specific deductions the most important of which are taxes(including amounts paid by employees under the California Unemployment Insurance Act, unless such payments are made under a voluntary insurance plan, but excluding federal or state income taxes), union dues, fees paid to secure employment, interest, charitable contributions, medical expense, and other uncompensated losses. Before taking any such items, taxpayer should refer to the instructions appended to the California returns relative to the right to claim, time for claiming, and limitations on claiming any particular deduction.

Birth Of A Bar

Gallagher and Manuel Beg Customers To Stay Away From Their Art Club

Two gents who hate work and would rather dabble in painting opened a bar in Daly City this month.

They are Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Manuel (the latter is considering changing his name to Sheen). The place in question is the 6630 Club located at the same number on Mission Street.

Two things make the place distinctive, i.e. outside of Gallagher and Manuel: art and free food. More of that later.

Both boys decided to have bar with character.

"Yep, what we needs is the artistic influence," say Gallagher.

"Right, Mr. Gallagher," replies Manuel (who is thinking of changing his name to Sheen).

"Oh, Mr. Manuel."

"Yes, Mr. Gallagher."

"Why not hang art, art, and more art on the walls?"

"Fine idea, Mr. Gallagher," says Manuel (who is sure his name should be Sheen).

Third Man

At this point Gallagher remembered a third party in the routine. By name, third gent is Mr. Liebhart. He is being an interior decorator of some note. Although Manuel isn't sure the note may not be flat, he decides to hire Mr. Liebhart.

An artist of the old school, Mr. Liebhart is turned loose in the bar. Now, by this time there are some customers who also have ideas about decoration. They are free to sound off. Mr. Liebhart listens, forgets, and goes right ahead with his plans.

"Oh, Mr. Liebhart," says Mr. Gallagher.

"Yes, Mr. Gallagher," says Liebhart (who is not thinking of changing his name.)

Tis Modern

"How are you planning to decorate our place?"

"Simple, Mr. Gallagher. Hang plenty of pictures on the wall. This way you save painting the place, don't have to fill in the cracks in the plaster, and convice the customers they should take their business some place else. No customers, no work."

Gallagher and Manuel go along with this idea. They buy pictures. They hang the pictures on the wall. The pictures are of every shape, form, color and artistic merit. They drive customers batty, especially after three beers. The customers hate the art. But the trouble is, more customers keeps coming.

Too Many Customers

"Mr. Gallagher," says Manuel who should be Sheen.

"Yes, Mr. Manuel."

"We have too many customers."

Then comes the brain storm. One way to get rid of customers is to give them free, terrible food. So, come Saturday night Gallagher and Manuel dish up tons of everything from corn beef and cabbage to chile beans. This is enough to boom the Bromo-Quinine business.

What happens? The customers like the food. They like is so well, especialy because its free, that they keep coming back. Today Manuel and Gallagher have work. They don't want custom-hundreds of customers. They hate ers. That's why they made a public plea today. "If you hate free food, if you hate art, stay away from our place. Please stay away," Manuel says.

"Yep, stay away. We hate work. We hate customers," say Gallagher in a small weak voice from the 6630 Club at 6630 Mission Street.

TV Eye Approved For State Crime Investigations

APRIL 12. (CNS) — Defeating an amendment which would have closed proceedings of the California Crime Commission to television, the assembly today passed a bill which would give the commission the right to subpena witnesses.

The amendment to the bill, introduced by Assemblyman Jonathan J. Hollibaugh, Huntington Park, would have barred the televising of hearings held by an investigating commission and of witnesses called before that commission unless they consented to being televised.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur

Now that the forty days and forty nights of fasting on the part of Prime Pension Promotor George McLain have passed—in the form of a period of waiting to see what happened to his newest old age proposal in the Legislature—California is certain to have another spectacle at the 1952 election.

For the people will vote on McLain's proposition to return pension payments to the state, pay off the oldsters on the basis of a sliding scale on a couple of cost of living indices, eliminate any relative responsibility, pay funeral expenses, permit personal property holdings up to $1,500 and require counties to provide medical care.

Long History

The history of this proposed constitutional amendment is the history of a McLain triumph and failure. It goes back to proposition No. 4, when the people voted state operation instead of county for old age pensions; Mrytle Williams, McLain's ex-secretary was voted in as Director of Social Welfare; intense opposition to what was termed McLain administration of the old age law and finally, adoption by the people of Proposition No. 2, which tossed out the pension advocate and his cohorts and restricted operation to the counties.

Smarting under the defeat, McClain took advantage of a provision in the constitution, which permits submission of an initiative to the legislature for about half the signatures regularly required to put such a proposal directly on the ballot.

Act Fast

Under the constitution, the legislature is required to act on such an initiative forty days after the session convened. Refusal to act, or rejection of the proposal results in its being submitted to the people.

Thus, McClain had the solons over the well-known barrel, for once burned, they were certain not to act and thus assure the pension promoter a state-wide vote. The forty days have elapsed, nothing has been done, so consequently, the people will decide once again whether McLain's proposal shall be written into the law of the state.

Well Covered

Meanwhile, McClain has not frequented the capitol as much as usual. The debonair pension promoter, however, doe not leave the legislature uncovered during the session, as his employee, Roberta Johnson, listed as legislative representative for the California Institute of Social Welfare, 1031 South Grand Avenue, Los Angeles, is on the job every day.

Attractive Roberta, who is well-known in the legislative halls as the former secretary of Senator George Miller, of Contra Costa county, has the job of distributing press releases for McLain, which deliver "blistering attacks" on the state chamber of commerce, also the National Welfare Advocate, McLains pension paper published at 1031 S. Grand Avenue, Los Angeles, and another publication called "Frontier," which styles itself as "The Voice of the New West," to legislators and newspapermen.

A photograph of "Pension Leader George H. McLain" graces the front cover of the April issue of "Frontier," it carries a story by Carey McWililams titled "Lobbyist for the Aged," and under McLains picture is the catch-line "Natural forces have no politics."

California Last Week

The Governor took a counter swing at the state chamber of commerce which blasted his budget before a joint meeting of the assembly ways and means and senate finance committee. The chief executive challenged anyone to say that the state government "has been extravagent," and said one reason costs are so high is the state must pay the prices business charges for the things the state must buy.

Warren also attacked amendments to the bill which would remove profits from crime by increasing income taxes on illegal income, but this was ironed out and new amendments put in the bill which will probably result in its adoption.

The legislature for the most part, spent the week largely on routine, waiting until the governor's budget is approved until it really gets into the meat of the session. One major issue, a bill by Senator Harold Powers eliminating regulation of co-operative power companies by the Public Utilities Commission, was tied up in assembly utilities committee. An attempt was made to pull the bill out of committee and bring it to the assembly floor, but this was defeated 41 to 29.

So the bill remains in committee and as a result, some 11,000 potential consumers are unable to get power. Charges were made this was the most heavily lobbied bill in years. Pacific Gas and Electric Company representatives headed the lobbyist list.

Miscellaneous: An uprising of some 400 teen-agers in Eureka against what they term indiscriminate sale of liquor in that city touched off an investigation by Jerrold L. Seawel, of the State Board of Equalization.

Jeffs Tangle With San Jose Bulldogs On Local Diamond

Roland To Hurl For Undefeated Indians

Jefferson High resumes its PAL title defense tomorrow afternoon (April 13) when it meets San Jose High on the local diamond.

The Indian nine enters with one league victory and a 12 inning tie under its belt. San Jose has yet to win a league game this season.

Coach Glenn South will haul Chuck Roland in from left field to handle the mound duties for Jeff.

Jefferson opened their league play with an impressive 9-2 win over Lincoln of San Jose last Friday behind the excellent pitching of Ed Cereghino. The big right hander fanned 13.

In their second PAL engagement Jeff ran into much stiffer competition. Cereghino hooked up with Burlingame's Randy Curtiss in a 12 inning 1-1 pitching duel that had to be called because of darkness Tuesday.

Both hurlers gave up only five hits in the marathon. Cereghino whiffed 19 batters, and Curtiss was close behind with 14 strike outs.

It was a perfect played ball game. Jeff executed two difficult double plays to give Cereghino air-tight backing. Only one error was committed in the game, that being by Jeff, and it has nothing to do with the scoring.

"It was the best played high school game I have ever seen," claims Coach South.

The Panthers opened the scoring with their lone tally in the third ining. Warren Kerzon led off with a base on balls. He then pilfered second base and scored on Bobby Wallace's blooper to short right field.

Jeff evened the score in the seventh frame. Bryan McMahon walked to lead off the inning. He advanced to second on Mario Levoroni's one baser, and took third on a long fly. He checked in with the tying run when Curtiss let loose with a wild pitch.

Leo Gianecchini and Gene Lorenzo paced the Indian batters with a pair of base hits apiece. Curtiss also was the leading batter for Burlingame banging out two for three.

The game will not be replayed unless its outcome has a bearing on teams entering the playoff.

The tie places Jefferson and Burlingame one-half a game behind league pacers San Mateo, Sequoia, and Palo Alto.

In other PAL games Tuesday Palo Alto edged by South San Francisco, 3-1; Lincoln defeated Half Moon Bay, 8-6; Sequoia nosed out Wilow Glen, 9-8; and San Mateo routed San Jose, 9-1.

State Fish and Game Commission Sets Three Experiment Fishing Regulations

California anglers this year will have an opportunity to take part in three novel experiments with the State's sport fishing regulations set by the Fish and Game Commission.

For the first time in State history, venturesome sportsmen may take carp by bow and arrow; fish all night for trout in one Plumas County lake; and go after trout throughout the year in a portion of the Smith River.

Each of the three tests will be observed closely by personnel of the Division of Fish and Game with an eye to possible future restrictions or extension of the principles to other areas of the State.

At the request of central California sportsmen's groups, the Commission okehed a year-round season on carp fishing with bow and arrow in all waters of the State except those in District 22. Bow and arrow fishing is legal between one hour before sunrise to one hour after sunset. Arrows must be attached to the bow with a line.

Night trout fishing will be permissible between April 28 and October 31 in Bucks Lane, Plumas County. Ridding the lake of large predatory trout was one of the reasons advanced for the all-hours fishing regulation.

Effective March 1, steelhead trout and salmon may be taken at any time of the year in the Smith River, Del Norte County, up to Bailey riffle.

Interested sportsmen have been asked to forward their suggestions and observations on the three experiments to the Bureau of Fish Conservation, Division of Fish and Game, Ferry Building, San Francisco.

Good Fishing Year

1950 was a good year for operators of public fishing boats off the California coast, as well as their sportsmen customers, according to annual ocean catch figures released by the Division of Fish and Game.

During the 12-month period, 602,431 angler days produced a catch of 2,235,593 fish from Pacific Ocean party boats. From the monthly catch records provided the Bureau of Marine Fisheries by boat operators, it was shown that a year-round average of slightly more than three and-a-half fish was taken for each angler day.

The figures do not include catches made by sportsmen from beaches, piers, or private boats.

Party boat anglers reached a new high in numbers during the year. The previous record was set in 1948 when 533,309 sport fishermen boarded public boats operating from California ports.

Kelp and sand bass made up the largest part of the sportsman's annual haul with 616,898 accounted for. A total of 251,040 barracuda and 86,998 halibut contributed to the State-wide catch.

The total catch of 114,502 albacore in 1950 was the largest since party boat records were inaugurated in 1936. Twenty thousand albacore were brought ashore in 1949, and 15,313 in 1949.

Marine Biologist Robert D. Collyer, who keeps track of the boat operator's reports, revealved that the close monthly accounting has "brought to light many facts which are of considerable help in maintaining and improving ocean fishing."

The statistical and research program is financed with proceeds of party boats operator permits and the angling licenses required of all salt-water fishermen.

"Among the benefits resulting," Collyer stated, "are the formulation of protective legislation and the defeat of harmful laws, a clearer idea of what kinds of fish and which fishing areas may or may not need additional protection, and a better understanding of problems facing marine anglers and party boat operators."

Trout Season Soon

Anglers throughout California this week are looking over their fishing tackle in preparation for the opening of the State's early trout fishing season at one hour before sunrise, Saturday, April 28.

An estimated half-a-million sports fishermen of all ages are expected to be afield for the annual commencement of trout angling in all except 14 Sierra and north coastal counties, and for the warm-water fishing season inaugural in northern California.

The 1951 angling regulations are similar to those set by the Fish and Game Commission in 1950. Bag limit will be 15 trout, salmon, or whitefish, but not more than 10 pounds and one fish. Five black bass, 25 crappie, sunfish, or Sacramento perch may be possessed.

Trout angling becomes legal May 26 in Del Norte, Mariposa, Tuolumne, Alpine, Calaveras, Amador, El Dorado (except Lake Tahoe), Placer (except Lake Tahoe), Nevada (except Doner Lake and Boca Reservoir), Sierra, Plumas (except Lake Almanor, Bucks and Butt Lakes), Lassen and Modoc counties, and in waters tributary to the Pacific Ocean on the coast of Humboldt county.

Meanwhile, employees of the Division of Fish and Game are busy planting trout in the State's heavily-fished streams and lakes. Stocking reports indicates a record-breaking annual plant of catchable-sized fish ranging from six to ten inches in lengtn.

The seasons reopen September 1 in the restricted districts. There is no closed season elsewhere.

SPORTS

Trout Season Opens April 28

APRIL 12. (CNS)—If there is any doubt whether Spring is here, some 500,000 anglers who are testing rods, lines and reels in preparation for the official opening of the trout season April 28 should be consulted.

Fishermen will take to the highways and mountain roads on that date to try their luck in any one of the counties in the north coastal area and High Sierra where fishing is legal.

The season opening will be delayed until May 26 in Del Norte, Mariposa, Tuolumne, Alpine, Calaveras, Amador, El Dorado (except Lake Tahoe), Placer (except Lake Tahoe), Nevada (except Doner Lake and Boca Reservoir), Sierra, Plumas (except Lake Almanor, Bucks and Butte Lakes), Lassen and Modoc counties and in waters tributary to the Pacific Ocean on the coast of Humboldt county.

All other counties and districts will be open to trout fishing April 28, the Division states, and there should be plenty of fishing for the hundreds of thousands of anglers who will get an early start in the search for trout.

The angling regulations for the curent season are practically the same as last year. Bag limit has been set at 15 trout, salmon or whitefish, but not more than ten pounds and one fish. Fishermen may also possess five black bass, 25 crapie, sunfish or Sacramento perch.

The division is still engaged in planting more fish and a record-breaking plant of catchable-sized fish ranging from six to ten inches has been placed in streams.

Olcese Hurls San Mateo To First League Victory

John Olcese hurled San Mateo Junior College to its first Big Seven Conference win of the season Saturday at San Mateo when he shut out Stockton College in the first game of a double header.

The second game was a different story as the Mustangs blasted three Bulldog pitchers for 11 hits and a 8-6 victory.

In allowing four hits Olcese had complete control of the opener. Not one Mustang reached third base. The Bulldog hurler walked only one and struck out three in registering his second white-wash job of the season.

John Matzek and Don Visconti led the San Mateo hitting attack with two hits apiece. They collected four of the Bulldogs nine hits.

After working the first game the ever-present Olcese had to pitch the final one-and-a-third innings of the nightcap to stop the Stockton guns. Mal Leal received the loss.

The division gave San Mateo a league record of one won and four lost.

ON THE OTHER HAND...

By Bob Quinlan

Shades of Lefty Gomez if the San Francisco Seals haven't turned up with another eccentric lefthander. His name: Chester Lillis Johnson.

Chesty Chester's antics range from a 15 foot blooper pitch to a hula dance while at bat.

Although he gave an inkling of eccentricity when he first arrived at the Seals' spring training camp in 1950, Johnson did not prove himself a clown until early in the regular season. One afternoon in Los Angeles Wrigley field the looney lefthander stepped to the plate, pointed to the center field bleachers a la Babe Ruth, and then proceeded to strike out on the first three pitches.

Johnson carries on a great conversation out on the mound. When someone gets a hit off him he pounds his glove, looks over at the baserunner, and says, "I can't understand how you can get a hit off the best pitcher in the league."

Another time Screwball Johnson called Field Captain Dario Lodigiani over from second base and said, "Lodi, you ought to come over here more often. I get awful lonely out here by myself."

At the close of the 1950 season last October all the players shook hands with everyone and said goodbye, but not Johnson. He wished everyone a Merry Christmas.

Chet reached his peak as a funnyman in a spring exhibition game with the New York Yankees this year. The story goes something like this:

When the Yankees' Yogi Berra came to the plate for the first time, Johnson called for time, walked off the mound, pointed a finger at Yogi and warned:

"Look, Yogi my boy. Last year I walked 132 batters, uncorked six wi'd pitches, hit seven guys and put one in the hospital. Dig in, and good luck!"

Berra popped up.

Three innings later Berra was late coming to bat. Johnson waited impatiently, and finally he called time again, walked towards Berra and yelled:

"Take your time, Yogi, we don't play again until Sunday."

Berra broke into laughter as he strolled up to the plate. Thinking Yogi would be laughing too hard to swing, Johnson tossed him his famous blooper pitch and ducked. Berra timed it perfectly, smashed it into left field for a single, and hustled down to first base as happy as a lark.

"The bum crossed me up," Johnson growled.

When Johnson came to bat he leaned over and told Berra the catcher:

"Say Yogi, you better tell Stengel to keep an eye on that fellow out there wearing number 5. Joe something-or-other is his name. Out there in center field. He looks pretty good at the plate. Give him couple years in a fast minor league and he'll be ready for the Yankee varsity."

Berra thought it over for awhile and when he came to bat for the third time he took catcher Ray Orteig aside and said:

"What's the matter with that daffy left hander ya got? Is he crazy? That guy he was talking about is DiMaggio, and he not only will make the varsity, he owns it!"

Mentioned above are only a few of Johnson's stunts. However, it gives an indication why the fans flock to Seals Stadium to see Chesty Chester perform. They look forward to seeing him come to bat, smooth out the batter's box with his bat, take a toe hold like he was leading the league in home runs, and then do a hula dance.

They root for him to get a base hit, although they know that he will most likely strike out. However, he is still a big hit with them.

JR. ROD AND GUN NOTES

By George Johnson

FISHING

The Daly City Rod and Gun Club's fishing trip at Steamboat Slough turned out to be a huge success. There were 20 members present, but very few fish were caught.

Percy Smith caught a rock fish and Ed Mierding caught a bass. Smokey Schalkowski and Jack Baily caught cold.

The Daly City Junior Rod and Gun Club's fishing trip at Shelter Cove by Pedro Point also turned out to be a huge success. There were 15 members present, but none of the boys caught fish.

Senior member Harold Pearlman caught a blue cod and Chet Flansburg caught a flounder.

The Senior members who were responsible for the trip and supplied the transportation were: Roy Ceravantes, Chet Flansburg, Harry Johrnson, Ed Mierding, Harold Pearlman, and Percy Smith.

It seems as though there is always at least one wise guy in the crowd, and this time it was Rich Giusti and Dick Evans who burned up the bait.

LAKE MERCED FISHING

Everyone over 18 who fishes at Lake Merced this year will have to purchase a fishing permit that costs one dollar. These permits can be purchased at the Daly City Hardware and at Rossi Hardware on Mission near Geneva.

JUNIOR ROD AND GUN CLUB

At the last meeting Treasurer Jim Galindo resigned and Jim the president.

Fishing gear was donated to Jones was appointed treasurer by the club by Jimmy Fox and was given away among the members.

The winners were Larry Bradley, Gene Whinnen, George Johnson, Fred Bertetta and Bill Evans.

At the next meeting more gifts will be given away. The first prize will be a casting reel. There also will be refreshments and movies at the meeting.

Nine letters were written to State Assemblymen Bernard R. Brady, Thomas A. Maloney, Arthur H. Connolly Jr., George B. Collins, Jr., Wiliam Clifton Berry, Charles W. Meyers, Robert McCarthy, Edward M. Gaffney and Richard J. Dolwig urging them to vote on Senate bill 868 which closes the lower Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers to net fishing.

These letters were written by the Secretary of the Daly City Junior Rod and Gun Club.

JIM FOX ON TV

Jimmy Fox, president of the Associated Sportsmen of California, Council No. 7, has been on television on station KPIX twice in the last month plugging the organized sportsmen in California.

The first 15 minute show on the Rumpus Room program was on gun safety and safe handling of firearms. The second program of 20 minutes was on skeet and trap shooting. It also covered information on how to join a sporting club of your choice. There are many clubs in the Bay Area and they deal with rifle, pistol, archery shooting, surf casting, hunting, fishing and hiking. Jim has all the information on the tip of his tongue.

Jim will be on TV again on April 25 at 5:30 p.m. on KPIX. Tune in and hear what's doing at Lake Merced, and learn how to catch those big rainbow trout. Alex Calhoon, Division of fish and game biologist, will be a guest speaker with Jim.

Woodrow Wilson PTA Plans Nite For Father

Installation of new officers, plus an interesting Fathers' night program will take place Tuesday, April 17th, in kindergarten room 10 of the Woodrow Wilson school at 7:30 p.m.

Title of the evening's program will be "Honored Friends."

Installing officer will be Mrs. G. Sirex, 17th district President, and the daughter of faithful Woodrow-Wilsonite Mrs. Clara Poket—long famed for the white whiskers and red suit donned by her each Christmas.

An interview: "Ask the Experts" with leaders of the community interviewed will be followed with MUSIC BY OUR FATHERS!

The children in Mrs. Randolph's class have woven beautiful Mexican hats and have learned Mexican songs and dances as part of their work on a Mexican Unit of study. These, too, will be on the program.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. J. Ausano and assistants!

Mrs. Clydean Caruthres, incoming President, had this to say of 1950 Pres. Mrs. Henry Adami and her officers. "Mrs. Adami and her group did such a wonderful job last year that right now I despair of ever coming up to the high standards they not only "set", but "kept." You know they won an "honorable mention" for one of the best planned programs at the 17th district convention in March?" She riffled through the mass of papers in front of her and shook her head a little, and added "But believe me, we'll try!" I have a wonderful group of officers for 1951—

Police Foil Young Man's Canding Spending Spree

The Daly City police foiled a spending spree by a young man Monday afternoon when they placed him under suspicion for flashing a $50 roll.

Later at police headquarters the young man admitted to Chief Wilbur Sunderland that the money belonged to his sister and that he had taken it without her knowledge.

The police, however, decided to step aside and let the young man's father render the punishment. The young man's age is six.

He had already spent about a dollar of his loot for candy.

Modesty Bows Out

WHEN I WAS A LITTLE GIRL there was a thing called modesty. It had its mawkish, prudish, even prurient side perhaps, but this wasn't the main side. The main side was reticence and—what shall I call it?—coverage. Girls kept their bosoms and their legs and their armpits and their ankles concealed from the public view.

They did not read notoriously unclean books or exchange notoriously filthy jokes. They did not use blasphemy, or refer flippantly to a rather large group of subjects termed "sacred."

References to physical conditions were confined to the ears of doctors, or to a comfortable family circle of mother, daughters, aunts, grandmothers. Pregnancy, though always a popular and exciting topic, was regarded as a matter of some delicacy; mixed groups of young men and women did not laughingly challenge each other to debate it. Such chatter as is heard today was unknown: "Jen says Tom's crazy for one; she won't. I think you're terrible not to have another, Connie. Fran says that as soon as they're home she's thinking of having one."

50 Years Ago

Young wives 50 years ago did not relate in detail to their intimates everything that went on in their own apartments. Young women and girls did not eagerly exchange books that plunge to the very roots and elaborate upon the most frightful abnormalities of human living. Every corner drugstore did not display among all the who-dun-its, the westerns, the dictionaries and Bibles, those sinister, filthy little volumes whose contents drip like an open sewer under our children's feet and poison the very air they breathe. And 50 years ago we had no movies with their everlasting displays of dull looking (beauties walking a raised runway) before the gluttonous eyes of rows of smoking newspapermen and judges; beauties who are nine-tenths naked, and casually negligent of any displacement of that remaining tenth of coverage.

During the more than 20 years that I have been writing these articles I have rarely taken the position of crusader. Long, long ago I wrote of the futility of war—of all wars. Encouraged by more than 7,000 letters about that I lectured many, many times on the subject of peace. I never was paid for a lecture, but I did receive unexpected eggs more than once, and some remarkable offerings by mail. A pistol, and poison tablets, and notice from one great magazine group that it was done with me, forever.

But that's beside the point. Now I am crusading, in a mild way, again. I want to ask the women who feel as I do to notify their favorite movie theatres, by postcard, that they don't want any more beauty contests on the screen. Burlesque shows aren't as popular as they were; they degenerated into mere displays of stupid fat girls so obviously morons that all excitement and beauty went out of the show. But there are "peep" shows beginning again, and if your town is threatened with one, do what you can to prevent its coming.

Lift A Protest

When you come across a coarse, salacious, immoral paper-covered book, speak to the druggist. When a movie shows, as one did lately, a stupid looking man sitting immersed in a small tub of suds, and looking as bewildered and bored as was every sensible woman who saw him, drop the manager a line. Wear strapless gowns if your figure is young and flawless—not otherwise. They may look all right in the shop, but when you force that roll of 35 or 40-year-old flesh up into a collar above them, they look all wrong. Wear a sensible bathing suit, of course. But don't squeeze falsies into the top of it and shorten the tights so that every time you move lumps and folds of your person threaten spontaneous combustion.

Modesty is a lovely thing. But like everything else worth while it is a slow and delicate growth. You can't be careless and coarse and enjoy whispered filthy jokes and shocking freedoms in your speech and your reading until you are 35, and then turn around and drop all your associates and attempt to join any group of really fine women.

It seems to me we American mothers and grandmothers might do something about this, because indecency in these superficial ways does lead to permanent danger for the rising generation.

HERE AND THERE

The women's association of the Broadmoor community church is having a Silver Tea to be held at Mrs. Hugh Falconer, 103 Village Lane, from two to five Friday, April 27. There will be an antique display. Everyone is invited.

The Men's felowship enjoyed listening to Chaplain Winkelman from Alcatraz who's subject was "The Rock." Hear tell the group is going to visit San Quentin next month. They sure are getting prison-minded.

The Scout of Honor court was held last Friday night. Dick Spookey and Edward Denins became first-class scouts.

Folk dancers take note! The recreation department is starting a new series of folk dancing next Friday at Castle Hall on Mission Street.

Incidently there is quite a write-up on the Broadmoor Community Presbyterian Church this week.

BAYSHORE VISITACION VALLEY

By Bernice Hendryx JUniper 4-6449

The Bayshore PTA gave a luncheon last Tuesday for the teachers of the Bayshore Elementary School. Crab salad, rolls, cream puffs, and coffee were served to seventeen teachers.

New officers were installed Friday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Bayshore PTA. Mrs. Foley, the 17th District Parliamentarian, installed our officers. Mrs. E. Perkowski is President, Mrs. C. Murphy, Vice-President, Honorary Vice-President is Miss Fitzgerald, Recording Secretary is Mrs. Kliensworth, Corresponding Secretary is Mrs. W. Stull, Finance and Budget affairs will be handled by Mrs. G. Tomich, Historian is Miss Bernard, Auditor is Mrs. Wise and the Parliamentarian is Mrs. Painchaud, the outgoing President.

The Cubs are going to have another paper drive on Friday and Saturday, April 20 and 21. Please bundle up all of your old papers and give them to the youngsters when they come to the door. They are going to use the proceeds to buy the necessary things to put on a Minstrel Show. The show should be an interesting one. It is scheduled for the end of May, and will be held in the Bayshore School Auditorium.

Busy Cubs

Aside from the paper drive, the Cubs are very busy at present, rehearsing for their seven minute show that will be their part of the Scout-O-Rama, soon to be held at the Cow Palace.

Another of our Bayshore boys will soon take the marital leap. Lynn Ralph Smith of 904 Schwerin will marry Rosemarie Holmes on April 21, at the Lutheran Church on Dolores St. Rosemarie is a resident of San Jose, and after the honeymoon, Lynn and Rosemarie will make their home in San Jose, with Lyn commuting back and forth to his job in San Francisco, at Exide Battery Co. Lynn was born and raised in Bayshore, so we are really losing a long time resident. Mrs. Smith, mother of Lynn, is at present visiting up north, and at present it doesn't look as though she will make it back for the wedding. Too bad.

Cancer Drive

April is the month for our Cancer Drive. A number of things have been scheduled. They include the telephone whist, to be held on Friday evening, April 20, by the Ladies Fire Auxiliary. Saturday night, April 21, the Mr. and Mrs. Club will have a dance at the Administration Bldg., in the Naval Project, and the proceeds will be donated to the Cancer fund. A quilt will be raffled, and tickets will be sold door to door in the community. A puppet show for the elementary school children will also be given for the Cancer benefit, and will be held in the School Auditorium.

Our quota is high, and Cancer research is of vital interest to all of us. These funds are asked for for a specific purpose. That purpose is research on cancer, and an attempt to cure the dread disease. The money that is donated is used to pay for laboratory equipment, and technicians that have shown a consuming interest in the cure of cancer. There are very few families that have not lost some of their loved ones because of cancer.

Since the American public has been asked to donate part of their income, a very small part, tremendous strides have been taken in the treatment of this disease, and many people have been cured that would otherwise be lost. Anything that will speed up the finding of a cure for this disease will inevitably reach into our own community and help either ourselves or those around us. Keep that thought in mind when you see a Cancer Can in your neighborhood store.

Visiting

Mrs. Rena Filarski, mother of Louis Filarski, is at present visiting in the home of Louis and Alene. Mrs. Filarski is a resident of Hanford, California, and it is hoped that she will make her visit here a long one.

Anthony Beckel had a bit of bad luck the other P.M. He had loaded his son's truck with a road scraper and some other equipment, preparitory to making a trip up county the next morning and working on and around his shack. He was sitting in his front room, watching television, when he heard a crash. What had happened was this. One of the neighbors, living in the upper block of Schwerin, was headed for Geneva. A dog ran in front of his car, and swerving to avoid it, he hit Beckel's truck, pushed it part way up on the side walk, broke a spring, and, in short, knocked things about a bit. His own automobile was also a bit the worse for wear. Mr. Beckel still thinks of the effort put into loading the heavy gear onto his truck, and the effort that was wasted, because truck and equipment went no where.

Sermon Topic

Dr. Wm. Orr, Vice-President of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles, and widely known speaker, will be in the Bayshore Baptist pulpit to bring the morning message this Sunday. On Sunday evening, the Junior High School youngsters will assist with the evening program.

A very interesting and informative meeting was presented at the Baptist Church last Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. John Huffman spoke, demonstrating a typical native meeting that might be held in the heart of Mexico, below Mexico City. Mr. and Mrs. Huffman have just returned from there.

A Pentocostal Church has rented the Voters League Hall. The Baptist Church has welcomed the newcomers, and have graciously relinquished the use of the League Hal, where they have been conducting some of their classes. In the future, all services of the Baptist Church will be held in the church, at 198 Acacia, at Ottillia St.

Winifred Evans, Ralph Stewart Exchange Vows Saturday At OLPH

by Diane Daly

One of the prettiest weddings of the year took place last Saturday evening, when Winifred Evans and Ralph Stewart Jr. exchanged vows at the flower banked altar of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Father Stewart officiating.

The lovely bride in an exquisite gown of white satin trimmed with Poit-Venice lace, and featuring a long train, carried a bouquet of white orchids and Gardenias. Her fingertip veil fell from a scalloped white satin juliet cap.

She was escorted altarward and given in marriage by her father, Mr. Robert Evans, distinctively attired in an immaculate white dinner jacket, as were all the men in the wedding party.

Helen Bolts, a cousin of the bride was maid of honor, she was attired in a floor length model of yellow organdy and carried an old-fashioned bouquet. The two bridesmaids, Laverne Torkelson and Dolores Cochran, wore identically styled gowns but in a contrasting shade of pale green, and carried matching bouquets.

Best man duties were carried out by Max Stewart, brother of the groom and ushers were Gus Sola and Russ Mahoney.

Following the evening ritual, the just-weds received fifty guests at a reception-Dinner, held in the Sylvan Room of the Casino Club. Mrs. Robert Evans, mother of the bride was attired for the occassion in a navy print with pink accents, and the grooms mother, Mrs Ralph Stewart Sr, wore an attractive black dinner dress. Both had orchid corsages.

Cutting of the lovely tiered wedding cake, preceded the departure of the young couple whose honeymoon destination was undisclosed except that it would be spent in the south.

The former Winifred Evans attended Woodrow Wilson and Jefferson High and the family is well known in Daly City. The benedict is a resident of San Francisco, lately of Nebraska. The happy couple will make their new home in San Francisco.

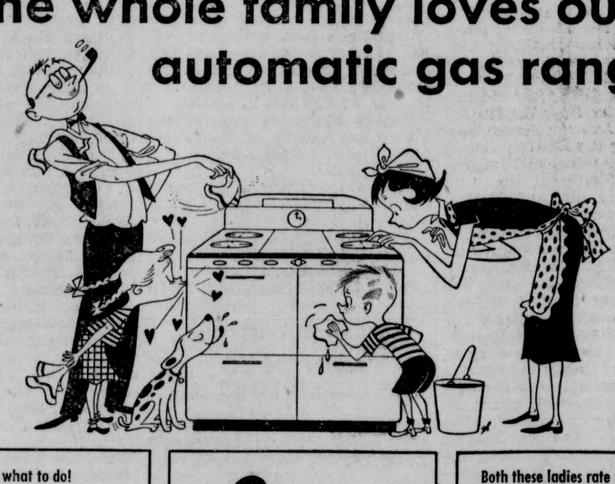
The whole family loves our automatic gas range!



Mrs. A. knows what to do!
Keeps her gas range shiny new.
Each day gives it best of care,
Guarantees it longer wear!

Mrs. B's a smart gal, too!
Knows her antique stove's taboo;
Tells her dealer: "Want to change
To an automatic range!"

Both these ladies rate first class;
They are smart to cook with gas
Smart because it's clean and steady
Thrifty, too, and always ready!

If you have a modern gas range, take good care of it. If you do not have one, investigate the possibility of buying one. It's smart to cook with an automatic gas range because gas is so quick and clean, so inexpensive. Now's the time to see your dealer!

TALK OF THE TOWN

By DIANE DALY

It would be quite startling to open the morning paper and see headline such as "Mrs. John Jones, (mother of four) listed as 'Best Dressed American Woman'."—or —"John Jones, Scoutmaster, Recognized by Washington," or simply "Mrs. Jones Wins Trophy For Best Ironed Shirt."

Quite obviously this is in no danger of happening, for the public pays to read the outstanding, unusual and sensational, with the accent on the last. However, there are many persons, some young, some immature, some old enough to know better, who interpret the front page as a barometer to the utter demoralization of our country. They forget that the thousands of American men and women who do NOT make the headlines, are more adequate representatives of the American way of life, than are those few whose activities, predicated on wealth and influence, or those who have sunk into the mires of crime, intrigue or moral degredation, are played daily in a black and white dirge of type.

Best Dressed

As "Best Dressed Woman" Mrs. Jones might not prove very scintillating copy, since while undeniably dressed with impeccable taste, and outstanding in any group, the "inside" story would reveal no labels by Fath or Balmain. The careful stitching and detail evident in her wardrobe would disclose Mrs. Jones' skill and ingenuity with a sewing machine. Her innate sense of style, her ability to "make over," plus the limiting circumstances of a budget, while a notable feat, would be a boring commentary hardly dignified for the titleholder.

John Jones, Scoutmaster, might be mentioned in a local column at some time, but WASHINGTON—well, hardly! No one in Washington knows that Mr. Jones, a volunteer, has put in many hours training boys at the expense of his own leisure. He wears no medals that show how many boys he has taken off the street, sometimes right into his own heart and home! He keeps no expense account for the fishing gear, the balls and bats and cokes and lunches and what-all he cheerfully hands over to "his boys." No . . . Washington could not know, or foresee how far Mr. Jones has gone in the interest of "better men."

Ironing Board

Mrs. Jones' profficiency at ironing shirts might be attributed to constant practice in supplying the demand of her husband and sons, yet a reporter, delving a little further would find she made it a practice to iron shirts for all the "new mothers" in the neighborhood, taking that chore till the mothers were able to get things ers . . . namely the "new" fathers to only a minor portion of readrunning smoothly . . . Of interest and mothers. . .

All this, then, might be the background of the heart-warming, if unsensational "news" behind the headlines we will never see—In this blessed anonymity, they are content to stay—the bulwark and strength of our land—Mr. and Mrs. America!

PENNY PINES:

Learning about conservation in a practical way, the children of the San Mateo Schools have, by their contributions of pennies since 1942, raised the sum of $2,500 dollars—Almost unbelievable!

The program of the 420 "Penny Pines," sponsored by the Forestry Dept., was introduced to S.M. Schools by Oriette Philpott a member of the S. F. Sportswomen's Club. The basic idea is that each penny buys a tree. Each tree is nurtured in nurseries of the Forest Service, until planting size. Then they are set out in prepared "burned out areas," thus alleviating, somewhat, the terrible toll of fire in our forests and timberlands. Mr. James Tormey, County School Supt., will continue this voluntary program for the valuable lesson in conservation and obligations of citizenship.

INSTALLATION:

Colma PTA observed their Installation at a dinner held April 3 at the Colonial on Juniperro Serra. Some forty guests were on hand to welcome the new officers. Accepting the gavel as new Prexy was Mrs. John C. Wiesner who was presented with a lovely bouquet by the outgoing president.

Entertainment was provided by youngsters from Jefferson Elementary Schools, who put on a variety program.

IN THE STUDIO:

A sensational discovery occured last week, when Mr. John J. Keller, master restorer and curator of the Keller Art Gallery at 6789 Mission St., in the process of cleaning and restoring a painting observed, that the canvass was at least one hundred and fifty years older than the painting. Sensing a discovery he phoned his client in Sacramento and obtained permission to remove the top painting. Then with a skill and intuition for which he is nationally famous, he uncovered a seventeenth century painting which was verified by the De Young Museum. Mr. Keller took several days of a much needed vacation to personally take the valuable painting back to its surprised owner, and will no doubt be retained for its sale, which should be considerable.

RED CROSS:

In an effort to wind up the current Red Cross Drive, at least within sight of its quota, Mrs. Olan McKaskle revealed today that there is still a need for volunteers, especially for streets in Edgewood Terrace, Hillside Manor and districts east of Mission Street. Mrs. McKaskle, whose husband is in Korea, and who works all day, has found time to spearhead this project in Daly City, and has done a noteworthy job, but won't some of you volunteer a little of your time towards this worthwhile endeavor? I know she would be grateful.

MAY QUEEN:

At the conclusion of the voting for a May Queen the resulting candidates were chosen by their schoolmates. From Pershing, six year old Carol Sciaroni, daughter of the Clarence Sciaronis of 506 Belvue. Nancy Reginelli, popular young lady of eight, from Woodrow Wilson. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Reginelli, 64 Cottonwood.

Garden Village elected little Susan Photenhauer of 38 Lake Forest Drive. Mary An Laramie, seven years old, will represent Jeff. Elementary. She is the daughter of the Thomas Laramies of 57 Cavour St. The Queen's name will be picked from these, and the others will be attendants. Richard Bell, five and a half, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Bell, 52 Brookdale, is quite nonchalant, as he KNOWS he will be Crown Bearer, but the girls will have a hard time settling down, until they know which of them is the QUEEN OF THE MAY.

SEEN AT BAY MEADOWS:

Lunching at the Clubhouse, recently, for a rare diversion, was Mrs. Johanna Warshawski and her two lovely daughters, Mrs. Ray Pettingill and Mrs. E. Miller.

ANY BONDS TODAY?

School Bonds, yes indeed . . . An election is in the offing for a new High School to serve the western sector — Broadmoor, Westlake and Garden Village . . .

DIAMOND IN THE ROUGH:

They say that the man who wrote the song "Take me out to the Bal game," hated baseball. Well, last week the fans made up a new one, which went "Down with the Rule—of O'Dul" and it can be said that the authors were hating baseball too—Seals brand anyhow—On the local scene the picture is much brighter, since Daly City can boast of Ed Cereghino, ace hurler for the Jeff High Indians. Ed, who has pitched his way this season, into top notice, has been receiving the nod from experienced observers and sportswriters alike, and his future in baseball seems assured. In his spare time, he is seen with Janet Shrieber, popular junior of Jefferson High.

MEMBER, MOVIES AND MAY:

Members of the Garden Club met last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Streeter, 125 Hillside Blvd. They were entertained by the showing of several films, one on plant life and the other a travelogue, which were shown by the courtesy of the Standard Oil Company, under the tutelage of Mr. Gordon. The invitation to decorate the stage for the forthcoming May Festival, tendered by the Recreation Dept., was accepted by members and Mrs. H. S. Garrsion was named chairman.

RITUAL:

Best customer of the Westlake mailman, is no doubt Mrs. Herbert Kraling, resident, who receives a daily letter from Herb who was recalled to service last November and is presently stationed in Guam.

SINGLETON:

A FIRST Birthday soiree attended by the little friends of Karen Carrillo, 122 Westlawn, daughter of the Wm. Carrillos. . .

NEW BROOM:

Izzy Galente, newly elected President of the Parish Club, (O.L.P.H. teener group) took over the gavel in recent installation ceremonies, with Betty Curt serving as V.P. Coming Dance arrangements are under the direction of Joan Beecher and Carol Donofrio.

TRIBUTE:

Honorees at the FOE 1848 Eagles meeting last Tuesday evening were Mrs. Arly Black and Dorothy Johnson. . .

DARLING DELEGATE:

Kay Curtin, 137 Shakespeare, was a very atractive representative for Daly City at the recent convention of Catholic High Students held at Serra High School in San Mateo. Dressed becomingly in a nevy blue suit with red accessories, she was escorted by Pat O'Leary of South San Francisco. The afternoon forum was followed by a dinner-dance in the evening.

HI-JINKS:

The rather noisy pack meeting of Cub scouts settled into an abrupt silence last week when Mr. Charles Hansen presented the entertainer for the evening—none other than Satane, the Magician. Dressed in the traditional full dress, Santane performed many puzzling tricks to the delight and awe of all the spectators, and caused Mr. Vince Moran some embarrassment at the contents taken from the empty hat he loaned the magician. Guest of the evening was Mr. Phil Schwartz from District of Lake Merced.

VISITING:

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Foster, 536 Hillside Blvd. are the proud owners of a new basalt brick fence, with the visit of an energetic unclue, Mr. Edward Hunn, of Sacramento. Mr. Hunn, a retired brick contractor, directed operations and completed the job in fine shape. Quite a constructive visit! (Would he care to stay longer?)

CHRYSLER TO SET PACE IN INDIANAPOLIS '500'

This is the car that will set the pace on Memorial Day for the fastest fleet of racing cars ever assembled. The Chrysler New Yorker Convertible, equipped with the new 180-hp V-8 "FirePower Engine" — most powerful power plant of any passenger car — has drawn the coveted honor, and here is shown on the famous Speedway at Indianapolis where the 500-mile race will be run. At the wheel is D. A. Wallace, president of the Chrysler Division of the Chrysler Corporation, who will guide the 33 racing cars around the 2½-mile brick and asphalt track. At his side is Wilbur Shaw, president and general manager of the Speedway and three-time winner of the "500," and seated in the rear seat is Tommy Milton, chief steward of the track, who was a fabled racing driver of the Twenties, when he brought home two winners at Indianapolis. This is the fourth time in twenty-five years that a Chrysler has been selected as the Pace Car, motor thoroughbred of the year.

Churches Observe "Cancer Sunday"

Worshipers at the various churches here will be asked to observe Cancer Sunday, April 15th, it was announced by Mr. George Dado, President of the San Mateo County Branch of the American Cancer Society.

The clergy of all churches have been asked to participate by devoting a portion of the Sunday Services to prayers for cancer control.

Jewish congregations in this area will be asked to observe Saturday, April 14, as Cancer Sabbath and Rabbis will be urged to seek divine guidance for their people in the fight against cancer.

"Religion has a definite place in the campaign for cancer control. Certainly the objective of saving lives—of making it possible to live out our allotted span—and of alleviating the suffering that cancer inflicts upon all ages, is God's work, and it needs the blessing of the Almighty.

"More than that, too, these people who are using the knowledge of science to find means of controlling cancer, needs the prayers of everyone of us, to the end that their efforts may be truly inspired.

"Cancer Sunday presents an opportunity for all of us to pause and reflect upon our personal lives and remember the challenge of two thousand years ago; 'A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another.' "

Traffic Signals Void For Funerals

April 12,—(CNS)—A bill exempting funeral processions from obeying traffic signals and traffic signs was passed by the assembly today.

The measure provides that cotegesshall be escorted by motorcycle officer escorts and officers shall be designated by the sheriff of a county or the cheif of police of a city.

Such motorcycles may be equipped with red lights during the time they are operated by officers forming escorts.

Considerable opposition developed in the house when it was proposed to allow the special officers to use red lights, but it was beaten down. Opponents contended that it is against State policy to extend the privilege of using red lights.

Sermonette of the Week

"WHAT OF THE CHURCH'S SENSE OF MISSION"

By

Rev. John A. Glasse

Pastor

COMMUNITY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Down through the centuries the Church has had a "sense of mission," based largely on three factors: first, Christ's own sense of mission, set forth in such scriptures as "the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which is lost." A second factor has been the command of Christ "go ye into all the world and disciple the nations, teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have told you." A third factor has been the inner compulsion of every generation to share with others the blessings of Christ and the Church, which spirit has been the compelling force in worldwide missions.

This sense of mission has expressed itself in diverse ways since the early disciples "went everywhere preaching the gospel," and since the great westward trek began with the answering of the call "come over into Macedonia and help us." Indeed it may be a profitable if unpleasing mental exercise for us to consider what might be our lot today if the gospel had gone eastward instead of coming westward into Macedonia, then westward with the Pilgrim fathers, and still westward to these far western shores. It might have meant that today the untold millions of the Orient would be the enlightened Christian world, sending missionaries eastward to our shores to lead us out of pagan darkness into the marvelous light of the glorious gospel of the love of God.

Such meditation might cause many of our citizens to appreciate more highly the contribution which the Church has made to our "American way of life;" and certainly should cause many nominal Christians to become more active disciples, with a true appreciation of the goodness of God and a desire to have others share in his blessings. The Church reflects this apostolic sense of mission in its official pronouncements; but many in the rank and file are not in step with vital personal discipleship, and therefore do not know the joys and satisfactions of a shared Christian experience.

Leaders in all walks of life are saying that what America and the world need today is the practical application of the principles of Jesus Christ to all of life's relationships, and we agree. The professed followers of Christ are the ones who must lead in the application of these principles; therefore for the individual Christian to rediscover and to manifest that centuries old "sense of mission" becomes a patriotic service as well as primarily a Christian's privilege and responsibility.

Judicial Council Backs Change In County Courts

The formation of two muncipal courts for all of San Mateo county was recommended by the California Judicial Council this week.

Besides eliminating the present 13 city courts and five justice courts, the recommendation, if adopted, would split the county into two districts with the southern San Mateo limits as the boundary. It also would establish two municipal judges for the northern district and one for the southern.

The recommendation, which was made to the county board by Phil S. Gibson, chief justice of the state supreme court, will go before the supervisors at their meeting next Tuesday.

If the supervisors accept the judicial council's recommendation, they will send it to the state legislature for ratification.

The new municipal court system, however, would not go into effect until January, 1953.

The reason for this is that candidates for the municipal court judiciary would have to run for election in next year's primary and general elections, and then take office the following January.

The new system would simplify the inferior court system, eliminating duplication and achieve economy. It also would relieve the burden of the superior court because it would be able to handle litigation up to $3000 and mechanics liens which now must be heard in the higher court even though they may be only for a few dollars.

Eagles Auxiliary To Hold Luncheon and Whist

A birthday luncheon and a whist game will be given by the ladies auxiliary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles April 17 at 3346 San Jose Avenue.

Colma-Vista Aerie Elects Officers

At its regular meeting held Thursday, April 5, Colma-Vista Grande Aerie No. 1848, Fraternal Order of Eagles, officers for the ensuing year were elected during the business session of the Aerie.

Those chosen to serve for the fiscal year from June 1, 1951, to June 1, 1952 were: Wilbert J. Carrington, Worthy President; Leonard Carter, Worthy Vice President; Delbert Fehl, Worthy Chaplain; Melford Battye, Secretary; Otto Schramm, Treasurer; Gerald Summers, Worthy Conductor; Leban Grisel, Inside Guard; George Wheeler, Outside Guard; Emil Bertelli, Trustee. Reginald Calvert, retiring Worthy President, will serve as Jr. Past Worthy President, and Messrs. E. J. "Smitty" Smith and Lawrence Romero will serve unexpired terms as Trustees.

Also during the business session, nominations were made for delegates to attend the Eagles State Convention in Santa Barbara on June 22 to 24. Colma-Vista Grande will send seven delegates to the Convention, and election of the delegates will take place at the Aerie's meeting tonight, April 12, in the Aerie Hall on San Jose Avenue.

Nominated as delegates were: Oto Schramm, Ernest Romer, Wilbert Carrington, Frank Davison, Delbert Fehl, Gerald Summers, Leban Grisel, Reginald Calvett, Edwin Duncan, George Wheeler, Melford Battye, and John Mona. Automatically a delegate, by virtue of his office, is the present Secretary, Tom Rae.

'Hot' Chemicals Used on Cancer

Cancer research has devised a new blasting job for exploding atoms. This time they are being put to work destroying cancer cells in a patient's body. Chemicals are made radioactive in the government's mammoth atomic energy furnaces and shipped throughout the country.

GIVE TO CONQUER CANCER — AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

Radioactive cobalt needles are being tried in treating uterine and other tumors. A piece of radioactive cobalt smaller than a golf ball can carry all the wallop of a two-million-volt x-ray machine; one soon will be used in Texas to treat cancer.

Radioactive iodine settles in and destroys cancers of the thyroid in about one of four such cases. Radioactive phosphorous has prolonged the lives of patients with lymphatic leukemia and other lymphatic forms of cancer. It concentrates in and destroys growing lymphatic tissue.

Experimental work with radioactive materials is being conducted by researchers supported by the American Cancer Society. Your dollars help guard your family. Strike back! Give to conquer cancer.

THREE GIRLS FROM CHI LOOK OVER HOLLYWOOD

by Ridge Cummings

Three girls from Chicago drove to Hollywood last week on vacation. Each brought a modest bankroll and a lot curiosity.

They moved in where I live and I helped them carry in their brand new luggage and introduced them to a nearby filling station operator who lets people park their cars free if they buy gas and oil from him.

Then I didn't see them for a week. Yesterday being Saturday afternoon I was taking a sun bath when they joined me and I had the opportunity of seeing Hollywood through their eyes.

Shar

Maybe you would like to share this experience? Anyway you can't avoid it if you read on.

The leader of this trio, the one who enlisted my aid with the baggage, was a 23-year old blonde model named Billie. She used to model for Marshall Field's big department store, two fashion shows a week at $6 each, until she learned she could do a lot better financially with bathing suits and visiting buyers.

"Jantzen wanted me exclusive but I'd rather free-lance," she said.

Billie had green eyes that set off her straw-colored hair. She was tall and well-endowed with the appurtenances suitable to her sex and age. Half Polish and half German, she was reared in the strongly competitive atmosphere of Chicago's south side.

Good Kid

"I'm a good kid," she told me. "A dollar is a dollar and that's what I'm after. But I want to make it the right way. Last year I paid income tax on four thousand. This year I'll do better."

"I'm sure you will," I said.

"Take Marian here." She indicated one of her companions, an attractive but unobtrusive brunette. "Marian's older than me but she can't handle herself in conventions yet. She's still working for Marshall Field. I grew up where the Capone mob was running things in my neighborhood. I know the score. Men don't worry me because I know what they want and I know how to handle them."

"And how about Helen?" I asked. Helen had mousey brown hair and a wide-eyed, little girl expression.

Speak Up

"She'll have to speak for herself," Billie replied. "It was her car we came out in. She's doing all right."

Later, when Billie and I went out for coffee, I learned that Helen, who seemed the most immature of the three, was a war widow with a year-old son. Her husband was killed in Korea a few months ago.

That's enough, considering the limited space at my disposal, to give you a picture of the girls. Now for a condensed version of how they spent a week in Hollywood.

The first night they went to the Palladium, a dance hall on Sunset Boulevard where Stan Kenton was playing, admission $1. There they met two marines on pre-embarkation leave.

Night Life

The boys took them to a night club out on the Sunset Strip where they recognized Elizabeth Taylor ("She seemed kinda stuck up. We didn't see much of her."), Barbara Stanwyck ("Her hair is grey but she is beautiful and so sweet."), Dana Andrews ("He was drinking all alone. So handsome and he wouldn't even look at the women."), and other lesser lights whose names I don't remember, not being a devotee of the fan magazines, but upon whom they passed pungent comments.

The next day Helen had a hangover and stayed in bed but Billie and Marian took the car and picked up the marines. They drove out to San Fernando valley to visit Johne Wayne. It seems the marines admired the way he played in battle pictures.

Apparently they were admitted hospitably. They reported that Wayne was interested in the fact that the marines were going overseas and, "He talked to them man to man. He's a regular fellow."

Pressing Job

One day of their week was lost in pressing their wardrobes, getting their hair done and other mysterious feminine activities.

Then they devoted a day to seeing Forest Lawn Cemetary and the more obvious tourist attractions. the pool at the Hollywood Roosevelt and said it was no more impressive than the Stevens in their home town.

Dine and Dance

That night they dined at the Mocambo and danced at Ciro's and added many more names to the list of celebrities which they were treasuring to take back to impress their friends.

California Loves That Song

APRIL 12. (CNS)—The song "I Love You California" written by Danny Silverwood on a cold and wintry night in New York back in 1913, was well on its way to becoming the official state song of California today.

The state senate adopted a resolution presented by Senator Jack Teney, of Los Angeles, no mean song writer himself, accomplishing this purpose.

Amendments to Tenney's resolution calling for the song "On The Banks of the Old Merced" to be the State's No. 2 song were withdrawn by the author, Senator Jesse Mayo, after Senators Teney and George Hatfield, Merced, voiced opposition. Souvenir copies of "On The Banks of the Old Merced," written by Tenney and Hatfield in a nostalgic mood at Hatfield's home, were distributed to the Senators in 1947.

Senator Ed Regan suggested Tenney sing "I Love You California," and another senator said if that was going to happen, the senators should lift the call of the house, so everyone could leave.

Tenney explained he had had many composers ask to have their songs about California made the official state song.

"But I feel," he said, "that 'I Love You California,' the feature song of the 1915 World Fair at San Francisco, first sung by Mary Garden, is the proper song for us to adopt, despite the fact I've written a song about California

FLUSH GEAR HOUSINGS

It is strange that many motorists who would not think of failing to flush the crankcase occasionally, will let the transmission and differential gears go for their entire life without this treatment, points out the National Automobile Club. It is not enough to keep adding lubricant when the myself."

supply in these units gets low. Wear fills the greese with filings and eventually it becones more of a grinding compound than a lubricant.

CHERRY TREES IN BLOOM

Cherry trees are now in bloom in the Golden Gate Park in San Francisco, according to the National Automobile Club.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS SHOW INCREASE

Traffic accidents in the rural areas of California showed a sharp increase during the first two months of 1951 when compared with the same period of 1950, reports the National Automobile Club.

During January and February of 1951 there were 4,147 reportable accidents, 6,442 persons injured, and 320 persons killed, while durthe first two months of 1950 there were 3,472 reportable accidents, 5,280 persons injured, and 251 persons killed.

This represents an increase of 19.44 per cent, 22.00 per cent, and 27.49 per cent respectively.

Scots Find Studebaker Fine

"Hoot mon!" and och aye!" as the Scots say, do ye ken there's a brand-new and colorful Scottish clan plaid that's never been seen in the heathery Highlands?

Designed, of course, for the Clan McStudebaker.

The fact that the vivid plaid neckties being worn by Studebaker people throughout America to advertise the cars' thrifty showing in the Mobilgas Economy Run are actually a special design, was revealed here today by William J. Sweeney & Sons, 6800 Mission.

Sweeney reported that many inquiries have come in as to "what Scottish clan the plaid ties represent?" Explained Sweeney:

"Since tartan plaids are so currently fashionable, many persons have learned that every plaid signifies a certain highland clan.

Hence the queries. Actually, our McStudebaker neckties — gayly criss-crossed with red, blue, green, yellow and white—are a special design. And they're available to any dealer who wants to publicize the fact that Studebaker, among 26 standard class cars in the Grand Canyon Run, finished first, second and third in actual mileage."

Studebaker, it is stated, even created a real Scots Gaelic slogan. It's "Teilgeach agat." And that, as any haggis-eater will translate for you, means "Your economy."

Vet Affairs

Education Bill About To End

World War II veterans who plan to use either State or Federal assistance in pursuing school or college studies this Summer are strongly advised by Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer of San Mateo County, to take the necessary preliminary steps immediately.

"The situation is complicated this year," Granger said, "by the expiration in mid-Summer of the right of a veteran to start or resume training under the Federal GI Bill of Rights—July 25 in most cases."

In some cases, a veteran who is eligible for "Cal-Vet" as well as GI Bill benefits will be wise to use State assistance in the Summer session and go back to Federal assistance in the Fall term, assuming he has kept his Federal entitlement alive by attending school this Spring.

It all depends, Granger added, on several factors: the veteran's educational objective, his resources, his obligations, and the amount of entitlement he has remaining.

To be eligible for "Call-Vet" assistance, a veteran must have been born in California or have been a resident of this State when he entered military service, and must have served at least 90 days on active duty prior to January 1, 1947.

He may be entitled to payment for tuition and fees and for a subsistence allowance of $40 a month, up to a maximum expenditure in his behalf of $1000.

Eligibility application forms and further information on State education assistance are available at the Veterans Service Office, Courthouse, Redwood City.

IT'S A PUT-UP JOB!

This pretty homemaker was snapped by a passing cameraman as the first breath of spring inspired her to get busy at the annual job of putting up canvas awnings on her windows. She absorbs her quota of sunbeams in a brief shorts outfit made of cotton canvas, while she puts up the awnings to protect her home from the sun. She may be a put-up girl here—but she also qualifies as a pin-up!

DANCING COTTON

For her dancing hours the 1951 Maid of Cotton, brown-eyed Jeannine Holland of Houston, Texas, twirls in a sheer, delicate formal of pale blue point d'esprit. This is one of the glamorous costumes in the around-the-clock wardrobe created for the cotton fashion ambassadress to wear on her tour of the United States, England, France, and Latin America. The Maid's fabulous wardrobe contains beautiful cottons for every occasion and every season.

Farm Commodity Prices Increase

APRIL 12. (CNS)—Despite federal controls, farm commodities continued to rise during March and consumers are paying more than ever before for meats, eggs, and other staples, the California Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said today.

All livestock with the exception of hogs, reached new all-time highs for the state and eggs sold at the highest prices ever received by producers in mid-March.

Corn, wheat and citrus prices declined slightly, as did that for turkeys, while returns for rice and alfalfa seed remained unchanged.

Some indication of the greatly increased cost for meat to the consumer, states the service, is in the national index which showed meat at a level of 117 during the years 1935-39, while last month it stood at 428, almost four times the level of depression years.

All crops stood at 276 in March as compared to 99 during the depression era, almost a triple gain.

Poultry and eggs have doubled as have dairy products, but the gains, the service point out, are more in line with increases in wages.

Prices for meat animals are holding up despite some increased production with demand still exceeding supply and holding the livestock market at its greatly inflated level.

Lawyers To Aid Armed Forces

Nearly four thousand lawyers in California had volunteered by today to give free legal advice to men and women in the armed services in problems arising under the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act, according to the State Bar of California.

Under this act many civil liabilities are suspended for the men and women serving their country for debts and the like incurred as civilians.

Keeping pace with the flood of volunteers, many local bar associations have already set up local war work committees to cooperate with the armed forces legal assistance officers.

Of this response James C. Sheppard of Los Angeles, Chairman of the State Bar War Work Committee, had this to say:

"Our committee's objective is to see that a no-cost legal service is rendered to the men and women of our armed forces wherever possible. The gratifying enlistment of almost one-third of the lawyers of California in this work is a token of the gratitude which lawyers feel toward the members of the armed forces. The names of those volunteering will be distributed to the organized bar associations of the various counties and cities to the end that this work go forward just as rapidly and broadly as possible."

Kick A Pig... Loose $5

APRIL 12. (CNS)—If you want to keep out of the red ink, don't kick that pig around.

Agricultural experts declare it costs the farmer $5 every time he kicks a hog at market time and care in the handling of livestock pays dividends.

They place the nation's losses at $33,000,000 annually from careless handling of livestock, enough meat to feed a city of 200,000 persons.

The losses are from dead animals, cripples or bruises when the stock arrives at market when a little care and consideration would slash these deficits to a great extent.

Dairymen will also find it pays to treat dairy cows humanely and the experts cite the case of two milkers who care for one herd.

One-half the herd showed greater production than the other half in spite of the fact both were of the same breed and fed the same ration.

The mystery was solved when the two milkers were switched. The section of the herd which had been the best producers lagged behind the other half which rose in milk output. It was found one milker was careless and abused his portion of the cows while the other treated them kindly and with care.

A Dance Dream

OF ALL THE PROM DRESSES to greet the new season, this lovely gown designed by David Klein is probably the most becoming to many young girls. Combining the softest Celanese jersey of acetate rayon with chenille-patterned white organdie, the effect of the draped jersey bodice and the bouffant organdie skirt is strikingly beautiful. Note the new shoulder-line, which is draped bertha fashion. The lively pink of the jersey shows faintly through the white organdie overskirt. (ANS Features)

Sailor Shoots Own Foot In Beach Target Practice

Target shooting on Thornton Beach by two Mare Island Navy men Friday resulted in a shooting in the foot and the confiscation of the guns.

Michael Trop, 20, told police that a rock he was sitting on was displaced, sending him sprawling and causing the gun to go off. He was taken to the Junipero Serra Hospital for treatment.

Troy and his companion, William F. Pheasant, were warned they had been shooting within the city limits.

Although no charges were made against them, the matter will be reported to Navy officials. Troy was given first aid and transferred to the Mare Island Navy Hospital.

New Items Under Frozen Mark-Up

Additional items of consumer goods put under "frozen mark-up" price control by amendment 2 to Ceiling Price Regulation 7, effective April 10, must be included in pricing charts filed by retailers, the regional Office of Price Stabilization announces.

Pricing charts under CPR-7 must be filed at the OPS District Office for this area located at 870 Market Street. Retailers who have already completed charts for the original items covered by this regulation may file these charts and then submit a supplement covering the new items if they prefer.

New items under CPR-7 are musical instruments, radio and television sets, phonographs and records, housewares, notions, luggage, sporting goods, and silverware, chinaware, glassware, jewelry, watches and clocks. They have now been removed from the general "freeze" order of January 26 and will be priced by use of a chart on which each retailer will show the cost, selling price, and the mark-up in effect in his store for each of the new items on March 31, 1951, the list date for the added items.

With these new items under CPR-7, retailers who remained under the General Ceiling Price Regulation because their volume of sales for CPR-7 items was less than $20,000 are now required to file list date pricing charts by the April 30 deadline.

S.F. SCENIC DRIVE REOPENED SOON

San Francisco's scenic drive around Lands End, Camino del Mar, will be opened early in June, Works Director Sherman P. Duckel announced this week.

A favorite drive for San Franciscans visitors, the highway has been closed since early in 1941 when landslides made it impassable. An elaborate drainage system has been installed to prevent future slides, Duckel said, and grading of the road is completed. A portion of the Fort Miley Hospital land was given to the city to permit engineers to cut the roadway deeper into the hillside.

Firemen To Hold Ball Next Month

Once again The Widows' and Orphans' Association of the Daly City Fire Department will hold their annual ball, Saturday evening, May 12, 1951. in the Jefferson Union High School Auditorium.

Chief J. E. Kennedy and his committees are working hard to make this ball the best ever held.

Music will be presented by Howard Frederic and his band.

Tickets went on sale April 1, 1951.

As in the past the firemen make their rounds and stop at each home in Daly City.

It is not necessary to be present at the ball to take home any of the wonderful awards offered by the association.

There will be dancing for both young and old and entertainment and good music for those who don't dance.

Shasta Lake has more than 350 miles of shoreline.

From Lab to MD Via Research Bed

A most effective bridge between the pure researcher at his laboratory bench and the physician is the cancer research bed. In a hospital a promising discovery of the laboratory may be applied to the cancer patient.

A cancer research bed allows patients to be kept under observation constantly by cooperating teams of physicians and scientists. Laboratory service for hourly tests is provided in adjacent rooms. Add to these ideal conditions the searching eye of the investigator and the chances for arriving at a solution are at their maximum.

Through institutional research grants, the American Cancer Society has greatly increased the number of cancer research beds in operation. The objective is to find more effective treatments of cancer. Your support of the 1951 Cancer Crusade will help maintain vitally important cancer research beds.

SEA FLOWER

This eye-catching cotton swimsuit — not the girl — is called "sea flower" because it has a long-stemmed waistline that blossoms into a slim-flaring skirt. The bright cotton swimsuit was created by Cole of California in flag-printed pique, the National Cotton Council says.

Hold The Trailer Down To 45 m.p.h.

APRIL 12. (CNS)—Vacationing motorists with trailers were reminded today by the California highway patrol they may not legally drive faster than 45 miles an hour. The trailers must also be equipped with tail lights if driven during the hours of darkness.

Too many motorists drive as fast at night as during the daylight hour, the California highway patrol said today. Reminding drivers that darkness greatly increases the danger of accidents, the patrol stated:

"If you must drive at night, slow down. Be sure to turn your lights on early, not only to see—but to be seen — by aproaching motorists."

Local Boy To Star In Hollywood Film

When Harold Lang began his dance instruction as a San Francisco 8-year-old, his greatest wish was to reach dancing stardom on Broadway.

This month—20 years (and a lot of hard work) later—he will get that wish in the new musical named, oddly enough, "Make A Wish." The Preston Sturges-Hugh Martin production opens April 18 at New York's Winter Garden with Lang in the leading dancing-singing role, with star Nannette Fabray.

He was last seen as juvenile lead in the original cast of "Kiss Me Kate" where his dancing won top acclaim.

A PENNSYLVANIA IRISHMAN

Sure an' begorra, it's a great day for the Irish. Tenor Gordon Goodman of the Fred Waring TV Show takes shillelagh in hand on St. Patrick's Day for the honor of the Irish. On March 17, Gordon will sing the praises of the Emerald Isle as only a real Irishman can. The Fred Waring Show is seen over CBS-TV.

MAJOR CAUSE OF NIGHT BLINDNESS

Poorly adjusted headlight beams are a major cause of night blindness among motorists, warns the National Automobile Club. The wise motorist will protect himself and his fellows by making a regular check on his lights for proper focus and working order.

Connecticut is known as "the arsenal of the nation."

ATOMIC BOMB LIFE SAVERS

Over what area will redioactivity be effective?

Injury range of explosive radioactivity is slightly over one mile when the atom bomb is exploded at 200 feet. Higher, some of the radiation will not reach the ground, reducing this range.

More than a mile from the explosion the effect, chiefly, will be temporary blood changes, which may be unnoticed by persons exposed.

Slightly less than a mile, the unprotected will suffer illness.

Less than two-thirds of a mile, those caught unprotected in the open are pretty sure to suffer fatal doses.

The prime purpose of the Civil Defense program is to advise means of protection and, if this advice is followed, the possibility of being caught without some protection is not great.

Even those caught on the street have a good chance of being partially or completely shielded by a building or buildings between them and the burst.
